READING LIST

Below is a fuller list of readings, including other readings that may be useful starting points for researching your term paper.

1) Social Choice Theory

2) Elections

   Voter models and party competition

Voter Participation
Economic Perspectives, 18(1), 99-112.

Aggregate Uncertainty and Probabilistic Voting

Retrospective Voting

3) Application to Redistribution and Public Goods

Redistribution

- Milanovic, B. (2000). The median-voter hypothesis, income inequality, and income

Mobility and Redistribution

Public Provision of Private Goods

Social Insurance

4) Legislative Bargaining

Agenda Control

Legislative Bargaining

Coalitions and Party Formation

5) Interest Groups and Lobbying

6) Dynamic Models: Fiscal Policy and Debt

7) Dynamic Models: Democratization and Weak States

8) Information, Cheap Talk and Communication

Cheap Talk

Wisdom of the Crowds

9) Constitutions and Federalism
Constitutions

Fiscal Federalism